The M.F.A. is offered as a three-year, full-time degree program, or as a five-year, part-time degree program for the working professional.

Students choose from course offerings that include computer art and animation, painting, printmaking, sculpture and digital media, ceramics, photography, and visual communication. Fully equipped studios in all areas provide the resources necessary for the actualization of a wide range of two-dimensional, three-dimensional and time-based work.
